

Boston Interview Program

The Boston Interview Program is a regional consortium co-sponsored by American University Washington College of Law, Tulane University Law School, and University of Miami School of Law. The program is designed to facilitate the hiring process for legal employers unable to participate in our on-campus interview programs. Interviews will take place at your local office, offering a convenient forum in which to consider students for summer or post-graduate positions. This year, the program will be held on Friday, August 17, 2018.

The Boston Interview Program is straightforward: our offices will collect resumes based on your hiring criteria and forward them directly to you for consideration. You will select only those students whom you wish to interview and we will arrange the interview schedule. Interviews will take place at your local office and you may request either a full or half day schedule. There is no fee to participate in the Boston Interview Program.

Our schools have an important presence in the greater Boston area with over several hundred alumni practicing law locally. In past years, our students accepted positions in the Boston area with law firms such as Brown Rudnick; Ropes & Gray; Proskauer Rose LLP; and Sullivan & Worcester.

Why Choose Students from AUWCL, Tulane, and Miami?

Because of their strategic locations in cities with endless opportunities for student involvement, American University, Tulane University, and University of Miami offer nationally recognized clinical programs, abundant and substantive externship and internship opportunities, and classroom instruction that incorporate special lectures from practicing attorneys. For example, our internship programs place students in agencies such as the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, NASDAQ, the Federal Communications Commission, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Department of Justice, and the U.S. Copyright Office. Students who participate in our clinical programs also gain hands-on experience in the courtroom and before administrative agencies. We trust you will find our students to be bright and hardworking individuals with an excellent understanding of what is necessary to become a successful lawyer.

An equal opportunity, affirmative action university. UP03-299

American University Washington College of Law (WCL) is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with acceptable laws and regulations. More importantly, however, such compliance stems from the history and tradition of the university which embrace and express the deepest values of the human community – equality, openness, and the dignity of every individual. The fact that the university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, age or disability is, in fact, consistent with and a reflection of its special tradition of social justice. Extending that tradition into the present, equal opportunity, affirmative action, and nondiscrimination apply to every aspect of the university’s operations and activities, including admissions, employment and access to university programs and services.
