EXPERIENCE

TULANE LAW SCHOOL, New Orleans, LA

Clinical Assistant Professor, Tulane Environmental Law Clinic, April 2023-present

Supervise students on case teams representing individual clients and community groups in state and federal proceedings addressing a range of environmental issues impacting Louisiana communities' air and water. Cases include challenges to individual facility permitting under state and federal regulatory frameworks, challenges to individual land use approvals for industrial sites, civil rights actions targeting discriminatory industrial siting patterns, and objections to agency rulemakings.

SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER, ECONOMIC JUSTICE PROJECT, New Orleans, LA

Staff Attorney, September 2020-March 2023

Law Fellow, September 2018-September 2020

Develop and participate in community-driven litigation at the state and federal levels on behalf of individual clients, community groups, and classes of individuals across the Southeast, with a focus on discriminatory economic practices, such as those that criminalize poverty, target the homes and homelands of communities of color, and lead to the inequitable distribution of public benefits. Lead multi-person case teams by managing the deadline and administrative needs of cases, including ethical issues as they arise, and directing communications with co-counsel and opposing counsel. Research and draft court filings and participate in oral advocacy at the trial and appellate levels. Manage discovery, including drafting responses to written requests and taking and defending depositions. Maintain client relationships over the life of a case. Direct field investigations into developing issues using varied strategies including public records requests and court watching. Work with coalitions of community organizations to provide legal support, as requested. Participate in policy advocacy on issues such as the criminalization of homelessness and inequitable tax assessment policies. Supervise summer interns, including regular research and writing assistance and weekly supervision check-ins.

NYU LAW IMMIGRANT DEFENSE CLINIC, New York, NY

Student Advocate, January 2018-May 2018

Represented clients in removal proceedings because of criminal convictions and immigration law violations.

NYU LAW PROFESSOR ERIN MURPHY, New York, NY

Research Assistant, January 2017-May 2018

Researched the history of the civil rights struggle for voting rights and welfare reform, with an emphasis on assessing the legal construction of white privilege.

ACLU CRIMINAL LAW REFORM PROJECT, New York, NY

Legal Intern, June 2017-August 2017

Researched caselaw and drafted memoranda in support of litigation about policing, bail reform, and the right to indigent defense. Traveled to states where active litigation was ongoing to conduct investigations and meet with clients.

NYU LAW RACIAL EQUITY STRATEGIES CLINIC, New York, NY

Student Advocate, NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, January 2017-May 2017

Conducted legal writing, research, and fieldwork relating to policing, with an emphasis on restructuring excessive use of force policies. Participated in seminar about strategies to achieve racial and economic justice.

BROOKLYN DEFENDER SERVICES, SPECIAL LITIGATION UNIT, Brooklyn, NY

Legal Intern, September 2016-January 2017

Researched topics related to deficiencies in the criminal justice system that affect clients, such as bail, court fees, and intersections between family and criminal court cases. Contributed to briefs to support impact advocacy on those topics.

THE BRONX DEFENDERS, CIVIL ACTION PRACTICE, Bronx, NY

Legal Intern, May 2016-August 2016

Met with clients to discuss housing and employment-related legal concerns. Conducted research relating to civil legal matters faced by clients, such as the deprivation of housing or employment. Assisted attorneys with document drafting and client intake. Contributed to impact and policy efforts relating to prosecutorial misconduct and the effect of drug policies on housing.

NYU LAW PROFESSOR HELEN HERSHKOFF, New York, NY

Research Assistant, May 2016-September 2016

Researched access to justice, with a focus on civil asset forfeiture, for Professor Hershkoff's publication, The Rights of Poor and Low-Income People.

THE BERNARD F. AND ALVA B. GIMBEL FOUNDATION, New York, NY

Program Assistant, Civil Legal Services and Criminal Justice Reform, March 2013-July 2015

Managed approximately 30 grants each year. Evaluated grant proposals, including program descriptions, outcomes data, reports, budgets, and audits to determine funding recommendations. Researched initiatives in environmental justice, community economic development, civil legal services and criminal justice reform.
