Cost of Attendance: Summer 2019 Abroad Sessions (Page 1 of 2)

Below are budgets for educational loan purposes. A student may apply for an educational loan in an amount equaling the budgeted Cost of Attendance (a living expense allowance and the tuition cost) for the sessions attended plus estimated airfare (or the higher actual documented airfare).

If the student is attending classes in more than one location in Europe, the Cost of Attendance figures for each location may NOT be added together. Tuition for the second program should be added to that of the first program as follows: $2,040 for an additional 2-week program; $2,720 for an additional 3-week program; $3,400 for an additional 4-week program. Also, round-trip airfares may not be added together: the highest airfare should be used, and a flat allowance of $500 (or a higher documented cost) may be added for transportation between program locations.
